Aircraft Owner Preventative Maintenance Class

The SDSU Flying Jacks student organization is hosting a Fly-in from 8am until 11am on May 2nd at the Brookings Airport (KBKX). At 10am we will have a short presentation on preventive maintenance to give aircraft owners the knowledge of the regulations and how to perform and record properly, Preventive Maintenance. We will also give hands-on lessons with aircraft owners on their own aircraft that you can schedule for a later date. The workshop is free but if you would like to schedule additional time, there will be an option for that as well. Come for the pancakes, stay for the interactive maintenance workshop.

To register for the Preventative Maintenance class please go to our website at <https://seminars.sdstate.edu/>

Directions: SDSU hangar connected to the Brookings FBO also known as Pheasants Fury
